Ayurvastra

Ayurvastra, the name along with it carries a legacy of trust imposed on it by an ever-expanding pool of its satisfied customers. The name Ayurvastra is derived from two words- Ayur (Health) and Vastra (Fabrics). Thus Ayurvastra means Healthy Fabrics.

Showing complete justice to the goodwill earned, people behind this initiative have done everything possible to assure best properties for the fabrics. Proven techniques are implemented and completely authentic dyeing processes are followed. An expert team of workforce is guided by efficient leaders having extensive experience and acquaintance in the related domain. Also the labor force are provided regular trainings to enhance their skills and this always paves way for more perfection in the final products.

These fabrics are completely organic and the raw materials used are certified by concerned authorities. We use cotton, wool, silk, bamboo, coir, linen, jute and hemp etc. The underlying concept of Ayurvastra is that the therapeutic fabric when stays in contact with the skin passes to the body its medicinal merits. This enhances the skin's potential to resist the invasion of any harmful foreign bodies. Ayurvastra also serves as a green substitute to conventional chemical and natural dyeing. No synthetic & toxic chemicals are used.

One of the main upsides and features of Ayurvastra is that they are primarily hand loomed/hand dyed. This initiative thus avails great job opportunities for handloom weavers, farmers and artisans, etc. Also we carry out ethical trade.
